TABLE OF CONTENTS

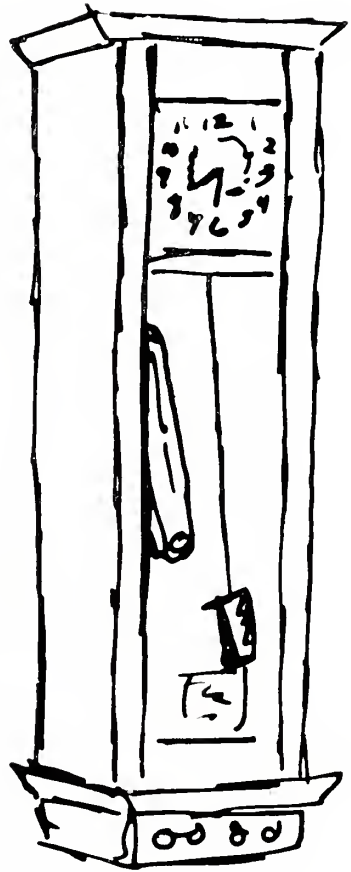

FOREWORD

Now, as we look about us at the familiar halls of Durham High School, it is hard for us to think of the day when we will be away from school completely—old, married, with our DHS days only a dim memory. But those days will come—relatively soon. Some day we'll bring out the Durham High Messenger, dust it off, and slip back in time . . . old buildings, old friends, old memories—they all come back to us. Looking at the sketches of DHS, we can see more than rough drawings; laughter, happiness, and youth drift back over us, fond impressions of our high school days.

These days pass all too soon. We of the Messenger staff hope that one day you will get pleasure from looking at the people you knew “back when,” remembering the sounds and sights of DHS—all the impressions that never leave a person. It is with this hope that we present to you a Sketch Book of DHS, '59-'60.

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1960

As we look back over our last year at Durham High, our minds are filled with many fond memories. Clowns, elephants, Indians paraded at the Senior Fall Festival Circus. We were the first class to hold the homecoming football game in the new stadium. This game was highlighted by the crowning of our homecoming queen, Judy Nutt. Meanwhile captains Jerry Anderson, Jimmy Billings, and Tinka Jernigan led our struggling, victorious football team "through the mud."

On standing committees, Seniors developed "writer's cramp" from writing letters of welcome to the "sophs," cut fingers while making "Welcome to D.H.S." letters, choked on dust while grading homerooms, cheerfully guided "sophs" to the nearest "elevator," pulled hair planning interesting programs for assembly, checked shoes at the "Y," drew posters, posters, and more posters, added points, et cetera!

After two previous years of experience, we were able to stimulate interest in the various clubs throughout D.H.S. Through leadership and hard work all the old clubs were strengthened by the support of the Seniors and a few new clubs and honor societies were formed. Though the burden of activities and the tough schedule sometimes weighed a little heavily, we realized that we would not trade places with any one in the world! Finally, we had reached the ranks of Senior, and we were enjoying it.

Fall induction of the National Honor Society brought the total enrollment of Seniors to the number of fifty-seven. All inductees in the spring ceremonies of the French, Spanish, and Math Honor Societies were from the "upper class." The majority of those inducted into the new Tri-M music honor society were seniors. We also boast several National Merit finalists and winners of numerous scholarships.

The basketball team, led by captains Ted Mann, David Stout, and Ray Cox, slid on the icy roads to Wilmington, while the track team began spring practice in a one-foot snow. With eyes searching the skies, the baseball team hoped April showers would bring May flowers and not more rain.

Talent is certainly not deficient in the Senior Class. Displaying their outstanding abilities in the Junior Talent Show was but one of the many evidences of exceptional ability. With a cast of nineteen, the Senior Play, "You Can't Take It With You," presented another opportunity for talented Seniors. The band and chorus both received superior ratings in district and state contests.

As the year drew to a close, the Hi-Rocket, headed by Wilson Day, and the Messenger, edited by Nancy Dailey and Cotty Satterfield, began a race with time to include the latest events of the year. Club Presidents, Student Council officers and committee heads turned their jobs over to the rising Seniors to train them for next year with the hopes that they will enjoy them as much as we did. Suddenly, in the middle of the beautiful Junior-Senior Prom, we began to sorrowfully realize that our days at D.H.S. were coming to an end. Then we found ourselves marching to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," receiving and holding a piece of paper that marks the years of our lives that shall never be forgotten.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Striking a happy medium, sandwiched in 'tween Sophs and Seniors, we, the Juniors, will climb one more step to the top.

"Will the meeting please come to order," says Class President Bill Weatherspoon. Always ready to stand in on the job is our Vice-President Johnny Atkins. Annie Piekrell respectfully submits the minutes, and Treasurer Kitty Smith handles that hard-earned loot.

Eight junior gals in red and white yell, "Go Bulldogs, go!" Remember those muddy football fields and last minute touchdowns? Then, there's the ear-splitting tension of basketball games: D.H.S. vs. Wildeats, balloons and spirit! And the Junior says to the Soph, "Where's your school spirit?. Buy a 'WRECK RALEIGH' tag—only a dime," (but it adds up in our class treasury).

"A Salute to Show Business" depends on answers to "calling all talent" and night rehearsals with the shouts "sing louder!" ringing in our ears. Finally, it's opening night with Weatherspoon, M.C. "That's Entertainment" say the Juniors.

"Who are you dating to the Junior-Senior, Sophomore?" we ask, proud that our time has come. "Hang those streamers higher. We gotta make it romantic!" Girls are in heels and chiffon; boys, in polished shoes and pressed suits. Bright patterns and soft lights play throughout the gym. This is our finishing touch to a junior year filled with lingering memories.

Wright, Anne
Yoho, Helen
Young, Candace

"Sophomore!" we exclaimed when asked what class we attended at Durham High School. And as we look over this first year we remember some events that made us feel a part of D.H.S.

There was a "Sock Hop" given for us by the Social Committee during Orientation Week, the first ball games when we cheered for our team, and the excitement of Homecoming when everyone decorated floats for the parade. We were proud and successful promoters of the Dickie Hutchins musical program and the student-faculty basketball game. We all agree that we are very proud of our Sophomore football and basketball teams, who made a great showing this first year at D.H.S. Let us also applaud thirty-six of our Sophomores who received Belk-Leggett keys for their good work during the first semester. Also receiving awards were those who were inducted into the Latin Honor Society. A few of our talented Sophomores participated enjoyably in the annual Junior Talent Show.

As we look into the future, we only hope that the years ahead may be as rewarding as this past year has been.

THE MESSENGER

Listen my cohorts and you shall hear
A story of blood and sweat and tears,
Of overtime and working late
And trying to meet a deadline date,
Of trudging 'round collecting ads
(A lot of them from our own dads!)
Of reading proofs and trying to tell
Which quotes will go over well.
And when our struggles are all past—
The Messenger will be out at last.

Of the events of the year we proudly can boast,
For we know that our staff is really the most!
Selling three ads was our aim in September
For this was the gateway to being a member.
"Smile for the camera," the photographer said,
As pictures were taken of everyone's head.
Typing cards for each person was quite a chore,
By the time we finished our fingers were sore.
A summary was turned in for every club,
Then Miss Ratliff informed us that each was a flub.
Pictures were taken and dummies were drawn,
And everyone worked from dawn to dawn.
Some of us went to New York in the spring,
We dined, went to shows and had quite a fling.
All of us can proudly say,
We've got the best year book in the U.S.A.
And let me tell you why that's true,
By going over our staff for you.

For editors, two, we were surely blest,
For we know for certain that ours are the best!
There's Cotty Satterfield, with nary a gripe—
But one same old line—"Who wants to type?"
And dear Nancy Dailey will stir up our fears
With her, "Hey, You'all—we need volunteers!"

Our business manager rates at the top,
Mary Donnelly's quiet, but her words mean a lot.
It's her job to keep the Messenger paying,
"Who'll sell more ads?" she's constantly saying.

Now take our advisors—they'll never be beat,
They're fun and they're pretty, efficient and sweet.
Miss Brown has never been known to get flustered
In advising us all she can sure cut the mustard.

Miss Ratliff likes copy that "jumps" it is said,
Without her our write-ups would surely be dead.
Mr. Stars who is "Big Daddy" to us all
Is the wonderful stand by on whom we can call.

We've plenty of reason to moan and to grieve
For this is the year that our Seniors must leave.
Daheo is sad and he's shedding a tear
Without Mandy Wade will he be here next year?
Our Messenger staff boasts one male if you please
For Jim Strawbridge we smile every time he says
"cheese."
And Vail, Deans, and Whitfield are constantly ready
To prove they're reliable, willing, and steady.

And then come the Juniors who next year will try
To keep the standards at their present high.
If you want a job done expertly and fast,
Just call Sula Parks and your worries are past.
Hoyle Mattox at art work turns out quite a job,
And for expert photography call on Dee Robb.
For typing and copy Susanne Boone is great
Also Diane Patterson at typing does rate.
Betty Baker's efficient at dealing with money
And then there are two who are witty and funny
At odd jobs Joan White and Betsy Fletcher excel—
Thanks to Betsy our banquet was really swell!

Pasting pictures on dummies is a job that we give
To soph Ellen Phillips and long may she live!
And now I am sure that you are all aware
That we have enjoyed an experience rare
For during the year that is currently past
We've learned many things that forever will last!
We've acquired new skills and achievements and still
It hasn't all centered on dummy and quill.
For we have discovered when all's said and done
That working together can really be fun.
And we know in our hearts we can always attest
That the Durham High Messenger still is the best!
